

Churchill, Ronald Charles ('Ron')

(1935-2020)

At the 2012 book launch

Biographical and Other Notes

Ron was born in Dulwich in 1935 and educated at local schools. His National Service with The Buffs (Royal East Kent Regiment) was based in Canterbury where he developed a knowledge of and a love for the City second to none. A career civil servant, he reached a senior position before retiring. A coin collector since the 1940's with an interest in the coins of the Anglo Saxons through to 1279. He also had an interest in artefacts and documents relating to the thirteenth century and early in his life started researching the towns which operated as mints during the voided long cross coinage of Henry III. His knowledge of these towns is unrivalled. He published two books on this theme. He was a keen sportsman playing cricket and football where he was goalie for Tooting and Mitcham; he had a schoolboy trial for England. Ron married Shirley in 1959 and had one son, Neil and two granddaughters Bethany and Eavie.

Contributors to British Numismatics

Sources and References

- R. Churchill and B. Thomas. The Brussels Hoard of 1908. The Long Cross Coinage of Henry III. Baldwin's, 2012.
- R. Churchill. Mints & Moneys during the Reign of Henry III. Baldwin's 2012.

4 March 2022

