Biographical and Other Notes

Soldier, aristocrat and landowner in Yorkshire; he was also master of Nostell Priory, a country house built for the lords St Oswald in 1733, now National Trust. Christies 13 October 1964 saw the sale of a collection formed by a member of the family in the eighteenth century, still preserved in its original Chippendale cabinet; another small group of coins, including an important element from the Bossall/Flaxton hoard, was sold at Christies 14 April 1981.
