PROCEEDINGS.

1912.

ORDINARY MEETING.

January 24th, 1912.

Mr. P. W. P. Carlyon-Britton, D.L., J.P., F.S.A.,
President, in the Chair.

The Rev. W. A. Laughlin, M.A., Ph.D., and Messrs. Lionel
Arthur Woodward, John Henry Searcy, and Herbert Jesse Farrow were nominated for, and Messrs. Guernsey W. Webb, William Henry Quarrell, M.A., F.S.A., Alfred Tarver, and Stewart Algernon Clarke were elected to membership.

Presentation of the John Sanford Saltus Medal.

The medal, which had been awarded to Miss Helen Farquhar by the ballot of the Members at the Anniversary Meeting for her contributions to the Journal on "The Portraiture of our Stuart Monarchs," was formally presented to her by the President.
Esaurite quattro edizioni del Manuale di Numismatica del compianto Solone Ambrosoli, l'Editore incaricò di curarne la quinta Francesco Gnecchi Vice Presidente della S. N. I. Questi, accettando la proposta, trovò opportuno di operarvi una radicale trasformazione, onde renderlo più agile e più chiaro.

Il lavoro venne diviso in cinque parti distinte:

I Parte. - Introduzione e nozioni generali
II » » Numismatica Greca
III » » Numismatica Romana
IV » » Numismatica Italiana
V » » Le Medaglie.

In ciascuna di dette parti vennero fatte variazioni al testo primitivo. Sopprimendo quanto pare superfluo, vi vennero sostituiti capitoli che si credettero di maggiore interesse per il novello raccoglitore, giacché, è utile ricordarlo, questo è il più elementare di tutti i manuali di Numismatica, il primo che deve studiare chi vuol dedicarsi a questi studi, salvo passare poi ai manuali speciali ad ogni ramo di questa scienza.

In questa nuova edizione fu tenuto conto del progresso della scienza negli ultimi 12 anni, giacché l'ultima edizione Ambrosoli è del 1903, e la bibliografia è in giornata colle ultime pubblicazioni scientifiche, comprese quelle dell'anno corrente 1915.

Anche la veste esteriore del Manuale si presenta sotto forma nuova. Abolite tutte le incisioni nel testo, le quali disturbavano la lettura e principalmente i prospetti necessariamente molto numerosi, si supplì con 40 nitidissime tavole, le quali con grande economia di spazio, contengono un numero assai maggiore di illustrazioni.

Crediamo quindi che il favore incontrato a suo tempo dal Manuale Ambrosoli, potrà essere conservato dai giovani amatori di questa bella scienza anche alla nuova edizione Ambrosoli-Gnecchi, e non possiamo che raccomandarla caldamente.
Presentations.

His Majesty the King of Italy.—Volume ii of Corpus Num- morum Italicorum.

In acknowledgment of this donation the President commented upon the beauty and excellence of the work.

Dr. E. G. Courteau.—The Coins and Tokens of Nova Scotia, by the Donor.

Messrs. Spink & Son.—Volume xix of their Monthly Numismatic Circular.

Exhibitions.

Mr. Bernard Roth.—Ancient British stater of the Iceni. Obverse.
—Convex, two crescents back to back, their cusps forked, intersecting a line of pellets between them; above, a triangle of pellets; below, an exergual line beneath which are traces of pellets. Reverse.—Concave, horse to the right; above, a star of seven pellets and a ring-ornament; below, a star of six rays; in front, two pellets. Cf. Evans, XIV, 12 (now in the British Museum), and Evans, XXIII, 1.

Mr. A. H. Baldwin.—An almost complete series of the long-cross coins of Henry III. and Edward I, to which the exhibitor appended the following note:—

"The collection of long-cross pennies, numbering 315, exhibited this evening are from the great Brussels find with the exception of the two of Edward I's time. In consequence of the thousands of coins from which these have been carefully selected, they are probably the most complete collection of this period ever shown, being especially rich in the varieties known as the 'Terci' series and in that known as the late 'Rex III.,' showing the king's neck. There are also four of the very rare 'Henricus Rex' class, twelve of the transitional 'Sceptre-Star' class, of which only three specimens were known before the discovery, in August, 1908, of the Brussels hoard; and eight of the so-called 'pearled crown' variety, which was previously unknown. The selection demonstrates how largely the Brussels find has added to our knowledge of the various issues of this reign."

Mr. S. M. Spink.—An example of the "Gold Penny" of Henry III., from the collection of the late Sir John Evans.

Mr. Shirley-Fox.—Halfpenny of Edward V. upon which the mint-mark, rose and sun, owing to double striking, was unfortunately imperfect; but the coin was from the same obverse die as that recently exhibited to the Society by Mr. F. A. Walters, which showed the mint-mark quite distinctly.

Mr. F. A. Walters.—A half-groat and penny of Henry VII.'s first coinage, of the London mint with mint-marks lys-on-rose.

Mr. L. A. Lawrence.—
1. Profile groat of Henry VII. with mint-marks lys on the obverse and a greyhound's head on the reverse.
2. James I. half-crown, second issue, mint-mark lys and struck in 1604. On the reverse the Irish harp is plain and in the Scottish arms the lion is large.

Mr. Bernard Roth.—Three clippings of silver coins recently found in a jar during the demolition of a house in Peterborough. The exhibitor added the following note:—

"As I showed in my paper on clippings of coins, such specimens as these are conclusive proof of the great fraud the practice inflicted on the community and are some excuse for the extreme penalties inflicted upon the offenders. The large circular clipping weighs 34.3 grains and is taken from a shilling of Queen Elizabeth, the legal weight of which was 95.5 grains, so we have here a robbery of upwards of 33 per cent. of the metal.

"The curiously coiled clipping, resembling a snake ring, weighs 64.3 grains and is from a half-crown of Charles I., weighing usually 231 grains—a theft of upwards of 27 per cent.

"The third clipping is only a fragment but it weighs 25.3 grains and is again from a Charles I. half-crown. I have to thank Mr. J. W. Bodger, the Honorary Secretary of the Peterborough Museum, for allowing me to exhibit the clippings."

Mr. Henry Garside.—Bronze twelfth and twenty-fourth of a shilling for Jersey dated 1911 bearing the crowned bust of King George V. on the obverse.

Exhibitions.

Mr. J. Sanford Saltus.—Gold badge of the Society of the Yellow Rose of America.

Mr. Bernard Roth.—Three ancient British coins and other relics, found at Peterborough, which he described as follows:

"I exhibit one gold and two silver ancient British coins which were found on April 16th, 1886, during street excavations, about 6 feet below the surface in Peterborough. With these coins were many Roman remains, viz., pottery, bronze coins so late as of the fourth century, a bodkin, three brooches, rings, etc., an iron bolt and hinge, skull of a pig, teeth of the horse, boar, and sheep, an abundance of bones of various animals, several broken tiles and one human skeleton. Perhaps the most interesting of the accompanying objects was a perfect bronze torque of the late Bronze Age, that is, of perhaps 500 to 800 B.C. All these coins and relics were lying in a black silty earth resting upon and in part mixed with the upper shales of cornbrash rock. Many of the slabs of rock and stone were stained black as if from the percolation of sewage water, so that it is very possible that the site had been the refuse vault of a Roman villa.

The gold stater was of good metal and weighed 77.1 grains, corresponding to Plate B of Evans, namely, obverse plain and convex with a large boss surrounded by a narrow depressed border, which had numerous striations on it. The reverse had a disjointed and tailless horse to the right, with a large pellet below, and pellets, oval ring-ornaments and crescents above. The exergual line was ornamented with a cable, or chain, pattern. Similar gold coins occur so far north as in Lincolnshire, while they have been so frequently found in North-Eastern France that French numismatists claim them as Gaulish and attribute them to the Morini.

"The silver coins belong to the Iceni, and are similar to those I described in the South Ferriby Find, published in the Numismatic Chronicle, 4th series, vol. viii (1908). They weigh 16.4 grains and 15.4 grains respectively. The obverses are plain and convex, and on the reverses, which are practically alike, the horse with the 'double horse collar' arrangement was moving to the left, thus differing from all the larger specimens in the above-mentioned find; the fore-legs were bifurcated to the knees, above the horse was a beaded ring-ornament, below it three pellets, and there was also a pellet below the thin rat-like tail.

"As far as I can ascertain this was the first published find of ancient British coins in the town of Peterborough, nor is the town mentioned by Sir John Evans in his list of places of discovery.

"I am indebted to the kindness of Mr. J. W. Bodger, the Honorary Secretary of the Peterborough Natural History, Scientific and Archæological Society for the loan of these coins and other exhibits."

Mr. Lionel L. Fletcher.—Two specimens of the copper siege-piece of Cork issued in 1647.

Mr. F. Willson Yeates.—Die for Mossop's Medal of Dr. Quin, to which he added the following descriptive note:—

"The die now exhibited was that used for the obverse of the well-known and rare medal by William Mossop, senr., of Dr. Henry Quin.

"William Mossop was born in Dublin, 1751. In 1782 he produced his first medal, which was of Ryder, the comedian. In the same year he executed a medallion of 'Mr. and Mrs. Beresford.' These works attracted the notice of Dr. Quin, in whom Mossop found a friend and patron, and his third venture was the production, in 1783, of the die now exhibited for the medal of that gentleman. The immediate occasion of this medal, according to the late Dean Dawson, whose collection of medals is now in the Royal Irish Academy, was as follows:—'Robert Watson Wade, Esquire, First Clerk of the Treasury under William Burton Conyngham, Esquire, was affected with an internal complaint which had baffled the skill of the faculty in Dublin, but having fortunately called in Dr. Quin he obtained almost immediate relief, and as a token of gratitude presented him with this medal in gold, inscribed on the reverse "ob Sanitatem restitutam excudit R. W. Wade."' The obverse shows the head of the doctor to the right with the legend HENRICVS QUIN M.D. and below in small letters W Mossop. F. The die was eventually spoilt by a crack from the edge across the nose, eye, temple, and hair to the V of Henricus.

"A photograph of the medal appears in Messrs. Spink's circular for September, 1907, in Mr. Forrer's article on Mossop (column 10,069), and shows to advantage the beautiful workmanship of the artist. The photographed specimen was struck before the die was cracked, but it shows the failure of the two O's in Mossop and a small indentation on the inner circle at the edge above the head.

"The marking of the head is well defined without being hard, and the hair is disposed in broad folds, giving to the whole an air of the antique. The medal met the approbation of the excellent judge whose portrait it gives and for whom it was executed. The zeal of Mossop's friend Quin obtained several orders for medals, but he received little encouragement from the Irish public. An offer from Mr. Boulton for employment at the Soho factory was obtained by Dr. Quin, but Mossop declined it.

"About this period (1788) Dr. Quin died, and the gratitude of the artist was expressed by a medal bearing on the obverse the portrait of Dr. Quin, and on the reverse the following inscription engraved after it was struck:
'Sacred to the man who after finding out the author in obscurity led him into the profession of this polite art and became his patron, his friend, and his liberal benefactor, 1788.' Although the medallic works of Mossop are not numerous, they are interesting as the first of their kind produced in Ireland, and a lasting evidence of his natural ability in this department of art.

"Most of the above particulars are taken from a memoir prepared by the medallist, William Mossop, junr., which is published in Gilbert's History of Dublin, 1859. A chronological list of the twenty-six works of W. Mossop, senr., and of the twenty-five works of his son is given in the appendix to that work."

Mr. Henry Garside.—Silver rupee coined for British India, dated 1911, the obverse of which was designed by Mr. Bertram Mackennal and the reverse by Mr. Percy Brown, Principal of the Government School of Art, Calcutta.

British Imperial farthing in bronze, dated 1877. According to the Royal Mint Report farthings were not coined in that year.

_End.

Mr. H. A. Parsons read the paper on "The Dunwich Mint," printed in this volume.

Presentations.

Mr. James Coats, junr.—Burns's Scottish Coinage.
Mr. William Allen.—Medal struck in memory of his friend Dr. Joseph Joachim.

Exhibitions.

Mr. Bernard Roth.—Stephen. A penny and cut half-penny of the variety of Hawkins type 270, with reverse, SANSON ON ANT and voided cross moline.

A variety of Hawkins type 270, with a star before the sceptre and annulets in the quarters of the reverse cross; Durham Mint.

A penny of Hawkins type 259, of the Bedford Mint, with obverse legend + HENRICIV[S].

Mr. F. A. Walters.—Noble of Henry IV. of the Calais Mint, weighing 119'4 grains, to which he added the note:—

"Only two other specimens of this 'heavy' noble are known, one being in the British Museum (from the Shepherd and Montagu collections) and the other—a much clipped coin—being in the Evans collection. The special features of the coin exhibited are the flag at the stem of the ship, denoting the Calais Mint, and the coronet mint-mark on the ship's rudder, which is also identified with the same mint. The French arms on the shield are semée de lys. The legend reads DEI GRAT, whereas both the other known specimens read DI GRAT."

Major Jackson.—Coins of Madura and Tanjore in illustration of his paper.

Mr. William Charlton.—A series of gold, silver, and copper coins of Southern India.

Mr. W. Sharp Ogden.—Forged rupee of William IV. in copper, showing traces of plating and of very rude native work; a copper trial piece and a proof in copper of the mohur of 1841.
Mr. W. J. Andrew, in an address, continued his "Numismatic History of the Reign of Stephen." He called attention to the fact that the existing coins of Stephen's regal type, Hawkins 269, were confined to mints which were, with very few exceptions, all to the east of a line drawn from York to Lewes, and he believed that their circulation was practically limited to that portion of England, for it was there that the strength of Stephen's party lay. The mints to the west must have then been issuing money either under the influence of Matilda's party or of that of the independent bishops and barons. The period would comprise the years 1142 to 1146, and of it he tentatively attributed Hawkins type 275 to Henry, Bishop of Winchester, the king's brother; Hawkins 272 to the Bishop of Exeter; and 273 and 274 also to the West of England. Treating the series bearing the name of Henry, and illustrated as Hawkins 259, he adduced evidence to prove that, with the possible exception of the Corbridge coin, which might well have been issued by Prince Henry of Scotland as Earl of Northumberland, the type could not have been current before 1142; and as in that year Henry Fitz-Empress, afterwards Henry II., arrived in England as a boy of ten years old, he believed it was commemorative of his advent, when, in consequence of the tendency of the Norman barons towards Salic principles, the cause of his mother, the Empress Matilda, was upon the wane. The geographical division of power and monetary circulation would explain the continuance, in those counties which were not under Stephen's authority, of the many varied types which seem to have had but a local issue, such, for example, as the pennies reading ANT struck by the Bishop of Winchester, which bore the name of a moneyer whom Mr. Andrew identified as "Sanson the moneyer" of the Winchester Roll of 1148.

Major R. P. Jackson contributed the paper which is printed in this volume.
ORDINARY MEETING.

April 24th, 1912.

Mr. P. W. P. CARLYON-BRITTON, D.L., J.P., F.S.A.,
President, in the Chair.

Dr. Algernon Archibald Payne and Mr. Gordon Fraser were elected Members.

Mr. J. B. S. MacIlwaine, Corresponding Member for Dublin, communicated the following account of a recent find of coins in County Kildare:—

"On the 26th of March, 1912, in Abbeylands, quite adjacent to the village of Abbeyleix, a small jar containing coins was discovered by Mr. William Kinsella, the owner of the property, who kindly gave me the following particulars:—

""The find was about 2 feet deep in moory soil and the coins, which numbered 226, were of various denominations and contained in the jar illustrated here. As treasure trove, the find was handed over to the authorities and sent to Dublin. The Royal Irish Academy has added only one piece from it to their collection, namely, a specimen of the "Blacksmith" half-crown of Charles I. together with the jar, which is of bellamine ware, but plain, as the usual face does not appear upon it. It is about 9 inches high, of dark buff to brown glaze and shaped as sketched.

""The coins, which were nearly all in poor condition, included—

""Edward VI. 2 shillings with English mint-marks, one bearing very small and neat letters and a double line on the reverse.
""Elizabeth. 31 shillings and 84 sixpences, hammered.
""Elizabeth. 1 sixpence milled, much worn, English.
""James I. 3 half-crowns, clipped and worn.
""James I. 9 shillings and 10 sixpences, English.
""James I. 7 sixpences, Irish.
""James VI. 1 quarter-thistle, Scottish.
""Charles I. 6 half-crowns, 9 shillings, and 6 sixpences, clipped and worn.
""Charles I. 1 Ormonde sixpence.
""Charles I. 1 half-crown of the "Blacksmith" type, Irish.
""45 portions of Spanish dollars current during the reign of Philip and Mary, much clipped and worn.
""10 French coins, including one of Louis XIII. and four of Henry IV., all worn and clipped.

""I have to thank the Keeper and his Assistant at the Irish Section of the National Museum for allowing me to inspect the find."

Presentation.

Mr. Arthur Pierce.—An original edict by Charles III. of Spain concerning the assay.

Exhibitions.

Mr. Shirley-Fox.—Henry VI. groat, half-groat, penny, and half-penny of the Calais Mint, bearing a leaf upon the king's chest and after the word ARTUSIE in the legend.
Mr. Bernard Roth.—A series of early American and Canadian coins in illustration of Dr. Nelson’s paper.

Mr. Edward Wooler.—Six specimens of the large find of circular pieces resembling worn shillings without device recently discovered at Darlington whilst a road was being widened. Various suggestions to explain the hoard had been made, including the theory that they were siege-pieces of the wars of Charles I.’s time. The pieces, however, were machine turned of plain surface and of very debased silver, if not of billon; which rendered that suggestion impossible. It was explained by Mr. Fentiman that they were probably a forger’s hoard intended to pass for shillings of the very worn order circulating in the Georgian period. Subsequently Mr. Oswald Fitch identified scraps of the printed paper in which they had been wrapped as of George III.’s time.

Mr. H. Fentiman, for Mr. S. M. Spink, exhibited the following rare coins in illustration of Dr. Nelson’s paper.—The New England shilling, the Massachusetts pine-tree shilling of 1652, also the oak-tree shilling, sixpence, threepence, and twopence, the Lord Baltimore shilling of 1660 and the sixpence, James II.’s tin plantation money, Wood’s “Rosa Americana” twopence and penny 1722, twopence, penny, and halfpenny 1723, and the Virginia halfpenny of 1773.

Paper.

Dr. P. Nelson contributed a treatise on “The Pre-Revolutionary Coinage of America,” in which he explained in detail the series of coins beginning with the ryal of Elizabeth, bearing a legend which refers to the colonization of Virginia by Raleigh in 1584, and closing with the halfpence and farthings of 1773 and 1774, the latest issues prior to the Declaration of Independence.
ORDINARY MEETING.

May 22nd, 1912.

Mr. P. W. P. CARLYON-BRITTON, D.L., J.P., F.S.A.,

President, in the Chair.

The President referred in feeling terms to the death of King Frederick VIII. of Denmark, one of the Royal Members of the Society, and reported that he had conveyed to the Members of the Danish Royal Family, through the Danish Minister, the Society's deep regret at the sad occurrence.

Messrs. Banister Flight Fletcher, F.R.Hist.S., and Herbert Stroud were nominated for membership.

Exhibitions.

Mr. H. W. Taffs.—A gold ingot, or plate, issued from the Adelaide mint in 1852, and stamped with a crown over the initials S A for South Australia. Its weight was also stamped upon it as 5 dwts. of 23\frac{1}{2} cts., and its issue was due to and significant of the then "gold rush."

A variety, differing in the stops and other minor details from the usual Bermuda penny of 1793.

A curious "mule" struck from the obverse die of the Sierra Leone penny and the reverse die of the $\frac{1}{8}$th of the Madras rupee.

A "mule" composed from two obverse dies of the double pice of Bombay for 1804.

A sixpence of George III. countermarked with a crown, probably for Tobago.

A proof in silver of the Indian quarter-anna of 1900.
Mr. F. A. Walters.—Three copper coins of Carausius and one of Maximian, found at Dorchester, namely:

Carausius. Reverse.—A lion, or possibly a hyena, standing to left, legend SAECVLVM AVG. In exergue M.C.

Carausius. Reverse.—TEMPORVM FELICIT, female figure, standing, with cornucopiae and standard.

Carausius. Reverse.—MONETA AVG.

Mr. Shirley-Fox.—Edward III. A variety of the treaty groat of the period 1360–1369, bearing several points connecting it with the previous issue, such as the Roman N instead of the Lombardic. The legend read D*G instead of DEI·G, and its stops were single instead of the usual double annulets.

A groat of the same period bearing the same stops, but otherwise normal.

Dr. Philip Nelson.—A tin farthing of James II. dated 1690, bearing a variation of the usual floral ornament. Also an example from the usual dies for comparison.

Paper.

Mr. J. B. Caldecott gave an address upon the coins and tokens of the British possessions and colonies, in which he urged the necessity for a new and standard work treating that branch of numismatics upon comprehensive and modern lines. In support of his argument he instanced from his own collection alone how numerous were the errors and omissions in the old text-books, to which students were still forced to refer for their only information.
ORDINARY MEETING.

June 26th, 1912.

Mr. P. W. P. Carlyon-Britton, D.L., J.P., F.S.A.,
President, in the Chair.

Calais pennies of the various coinages of Henry VI., namely, (1) "The early annulet," (2) "The late annulet," with one annulet only on the reverse, (3) "The annulet-rosette," (4) "The rosette-mascle," omitting the rosette on the obverse, (5) "The rosette-mascle," (6) Obverse plain, reverse with the rosette, (7) "The pinecone mascle."

Mr. Henry Symonds.—James I. Shilling of the second issue with mint-mark lys.

Irish shilling of the second issue with mint-marks, obverse, escallop, and reverse, rose.

Half-groat with mint-mark spur rowel.
Lt.-Col. H. W. Morrieson.—Varieties of the silver coinage of James I. as described in his paper printed in this volume.

Mr. W. Sharp Ogden.—James I. Contemporary forgery in copper of a shilling of the second issue, the inscription being in reverse. Mr. Ogden inferred from the imperfect punctuation and rude form of the lettering that it was of foreign work.

Paper.

Mr. Henry Symonds read the paper on the coinage of James I. as recorded in the trials of the pyx, which is printed in this volume.

Lt.-Col. Morrieson followed with a supplement to his treatise on the silver coins of James I., also printed in this volume.

Jupiter semi-nude to right, holding sceptre and leaning on a circle in which are four figures representing the four seasons; in front a figure holding a cornucopiae. Recently found at York, E. Gnechi, I. Medaglioni Romani, iii, p. 60, No. 75, Plate 83, 3. Cohen, 392, 474.

Mr. F. A. Walters.—Bronze uniface medal of Queen Mary I., by Jacob Da Trezzo of Milan. Obverse.—MARIA .I. REG. ANGL. FRANC. ET. HIB. FIDEI. DEFENSATRIX.

Paper.

Mr. Bernard Roth read the paper on "Ancient Gaulish Coins" printed in this volume.

ORDINARY MEETING.

October 23rd, 1912.

Mr. P. W. P. Carlyon-Britton, D.L., J.P., F.S.A.,

President, in the Chair.

Mrs. W. J. Andrew, Mrs. Eustace Smith, and Messrs. Frederick William Bowman and John Alexander Symington were nominated for, and Mr. Grant Richardson Francis was elected to membership.

Messrs. H. W. Taffs and E. Shepherd were appointed Auditors of the Accounts for the session.

Exhibitions.

Mr. Bernard Roth.—An inscribed bronze coin of the Brigantes, with the following notes:

"This specimen was ploughed up on the moor at North Kelsey, Lincolnshire, in the year 1879. It weighs 60·5 grains and corresponds almost exactly with the gold staters, Evans, Plate XVII, No. 5, weighing from 80 to 85 grains.

Obverse.—Uninscribed; a wreath of rectangular leaves running in opposite directions from near the centre of the coin, is crossed by a line with a thin crescent at each end clasping a ring beaded at intervals, and with a pellet in the centre; on each side of the wreath is a dolphin-like figure, similar to those I described as 'notes of interrogation enclosing a pellet,' in my paper on the South Ferriby Hoard of gold and silver Brigantes coins, and published in the Numismatic Chronicle, IVth Series, vol. viii.

Reverse.—The legends VEP and CORF lie respectively above and below a much disjointed horse moving to the left, the neck and chest segments of the horse (see diagram in paper just quoted) diverging below, are united above very near the head; the fore-legs are separated from the trunk, while the hind-legs are attached to the extremity of the segment representing the loins. The V and E of the upper legend are linked together in monogram and the loop of the P is incomplete. The tail of the horse, springing from the middle of the convexity of the segment for the loins, must not be mistaken for an additional letter—I.

"The letters C and O are much smaller than the R and F in the CORF legend. So far, no explanation of these legends has been forthcoming. Sir John Evans says, p. 412 of his Coins of the Ancient Britons, 'I have another specimen of this type, found at Cirencester, of such base metal as to have been much corroded and covered with green rust. It has, in part, all the appearance of being a brass coin and its weight is only 61 grains.' The coin I exhibit is undoubtedly brass or bronze and has a fine patina and only weighs half a grain less than that specimen."

Mr. Herbert Druitt.—A small ingot of debased gold in the shape of a conical bullet and similar in form to the silver ingot found at Avondale and intended for coining.

A penny of Henry III. illustrating the extreme extent to which clipping was then carried. Both exhibitions were found at Christchurch, Hants.

Mr. J. B. S. MacIlwaine.—Varieties of Hiberno-Danish pennies in continuation of Mr. Roth’s paper in vol. vi of the Journal, namely:

1. Obverse.—As No. 177. Reverse.—As No. 177, but only one pellet in opposite quarters; 6 grains.

2. Obverse.—As No. 177, but a line round the head at the extremity of the hair. Reverse.—As 177; 6 grains.

Mr. L. A. Lawrence.—Henry IV. A groat of an early obverse “muled” with a late reverse. Some features of the latter, viz., the mint-mark cross voided and pierced and the presence of a single saltire, instead of two, after the mint-name “London,” are new varieties.

A medal or badge of Monck, Duke of Albemarle, being a variant of the known specimens, Monck’s name and title not appearing on the obverse, and the laurel border being of different design. Silver.

A portrait medallion of Henry of Bourbon, Prince of Condé; reverse, his arms, engraved in the style of Simon Passe. Silver.

Mr. S. H. Hamer.—A political penny token, being Atkins, Hampshire, No. 3.

The original drawing for the penny token of Henry Young, dealer in coins, 18, Ludgate Street, London, with a specimen of the token, dated 1794, and another after a die-flaw had occurred.

Lt.-Col. H. W. Morrieson.—A badly centred penny of 1900 received in currency.

Paper.

Mr. W. J. Andrew read a paper on our early money, which raised the question of the respective dates of the introduction of the silver penny, halfpenny, and farthing, the main points of which are included in the section of his "Numismatic History of the Reign of Stephen," printed in vol. viii of this Journal.

ORDINARY MEETING.

Mrs. Shirley-Fox and Mr. Joseph Young were nominated for, and Mrs. W. J. Andrew, Mrs. Eustace Smith, and Messrs. Frederick William Bowman and John Alexander Symington were elected to membership.

Mr. H. St. George Gray.—"Report of the Coroner's Inquest and a paper concerning the Gold Torque found at Yeovil in 1909," by the Donor.

H.M. The King of Italy.—Corpus Nummorum Italicorum, vol. iii.

Exhibitions.

Mr. F. A. Walters.—Henry VII. An angel of a distinctly intermediate type between the first and second types.

Lt.-Col. H. W. Morrieson.—Charles I. Coins of the Aberystwyth Mint, namely, five half-crowns, eight shillings, and seven sixpences, to illustrate the sequence of the coinage of those denominations.
Mr. Frank Drew.—A pair of large engraved portraits of Charles I. and his Consort, which Miss Farquhar identified as being by Pieter de Jode, of Antwerp, from the original pictures by Van Dyck now at Longford Castle.

Mr. H. W. Taffs.—Charles II. A farthing of very light weight, namely, 36½ grains, whereas the standard farthing, which he also exhibited for comparison, weighed about 83½ grains.

Mr. Lionel L. Fletcher.—A quarter- and a half-anna of Bhartpur, one of the Native States of Rajputana, with the head of Queen Victoria and issued in 1858.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING.

Council's Report:

The President read the Council's Report as follows:

REPORT.

The Council has the honour to present its Ninth Annual Report. On November 30th, 1911, the Society consisted of 20 Royal, 16 Honorary, and 477 Ordinary Members, the total being 513.

During the year 1912 the Society has suffered the loss of one of its Royal Members, H.M. the late King Frederick VIII. of Denmark, who was amongst the first of the sovereigns of Europe to honour the Society by their appreciation of its efforts.

The Council also deeply regrets the decease of the seven following Members:—Lt.-Col. Sir Horatio David Davies, K.C.M.G., Mons. Charles C. de Brix, Dr. Andrew Lang, Messrs. Herbert Jordan Adams, John B. Brotn-Morrison, Joseph Mitchelson, and F. Stroud, Recorder of Tewkesbury.

The list of Honorary Members is reduced by the retirement from this country of His Excellency Count Paul Wolff-Metternich, the German Ambassador.

The Society is therefore 34 below its full strength, a condition which would not exist if the Members, generally, would unite with the Council in introducing its Journal and objects to those who are interested in the coinage and history of this country and of the dominions beyond the seas.

The most pleasing incident of the year has been the gift of a thousand-franc note to the Research Fund by our Vice-President Mr. John Sanford Saltus as, to use his own words, "A Whitsuntide Gift." Thus for three consecutive years Mr. Saltus has most generously endowed the Society. Last year he placed the same Fund upon a substantial basis by a contribution of £150, and in 1910 founded the Society's Gold Medal, which the Council, not he, suggested should be named after him, by a donation of £200. The Members will join the Council in expressing their unanimous appreciation of this munificent support.

Although this is but its Ninth Annual Report the Council may congratulate the Members upon the financial position of the Society for it has now, apart from the value of its library and collections investments representing over £1,000. During eight of these years it has had the advantage of the presidency of Mr. Carlyon-Britton, and it is primarily due to his methods of management that this satisfactory result has been achieved. A factor in economics for which the Society has also to thank him, coupled in this instance with his partner Mr. Lumb, is the continued free use of its suite of apartments at 43, Bedford Square.

The general ballot for the Second Award of "The John Sanford Saltus Gold Medal" resulted in favour of Miss Helen Farquhar, a Vice-President of the Society, for her contributions to the Journal, intituled "Portraiture of our Stuart Monarchs upon their Coins and Medals." Miss Farquhar joined the Society at its initiation as its first lady member, and no pen has been more prolific than hers in the pages of the Journals. Her methods of literature are strictly historical, and for every statement she makes she gives the contemporary authority, a system which discloses endless research of original matter. The Council congratulates her upon her deserved success.

The work of the Research Fund is steadily being continued under the competent direction of Mr. H. B. Earle Fox and Mr. Shirley-Fox, with most valuable results towards the elucidation of mint affairs during Plantagenet and Tudor times.

To Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Shirley-Fox thanks are due for their management of the Lantern Slide Fund, by which the Society has now a representative assortment of slides suitable for the illustration of papers upon general numismatics.

Remarks have already been made upon the satisfactory condition of the capital of the Society, but to Mr. A. C. Hutchins, F.C.A., as Treasurer, every credit is due for the care and ability he devotes to the management of its receipts, expenditure and investments; for at every meeting of the Society a complete and detailed statement of the financial position to that date is submitted. To Mr. Edward Shepherd and Mr. H. W. Taffs the members will accord their thanks for performing their duties as Auditors.

The efforts of Lt.-Col. Morrieson, the Librarian, to establish a library worthy of the Society deserve especial recognition, because he is in charge of what is undoubtedly a very difficult department of the Society's enterprise. Nevertheless, so far as is possible with the limited funds at his disposal, he is making steady progress towards that object, and your Council trusts that in the near future his enterprise may be rewarded by more generous support. In this relation it is pleasing to report the gift to the Society by His Majesty the King of Italy, one of our Royal Members, of three handsome volumes comprising the Corpus Nummorum Italicorum, a work for which he is personally to be accredited.

Vol. viii of the Journal is now placed upon the table, and the Council hopes that in the opinion of Members it will do justice to its series. The coloured plate which it contains is the gift of Miss Farquhar, being the second which she has contributed to the Journal, and the Editors, Mr. W. J. Andrew and Mr. Carlyon-Britton, call attention to it as a remarkable example of modern art, a comparison with the original proving it to be an exact reproduction of an old portrait on copper, for which every credit is due to our printers, Messrs. Harrison & Sons.

The attendance at the Meetings has continued to prove the general interest of Members in these gatherings and in the papers contributed by authors, which have fully maintained the prestige of the Society. The exhibitions have been of a varied and most interesting order, and the donations to the library and collections of a liberal character. Our thanks are due to each and every one who has thus kindly contributed to the progress of our common cause. The Report was unanimously adopted.

Papers.

Short papers were read by Lt.-Col. Morrieson, on a series of coins of Charles I., illustrating the sequence at the Aberystwyth mint; by Mr. F. A. Walters, on an angel of Henry VII. intermediate between the first and second types; and by Mr. J. B. S. MacIlwaine, on certain peculiarities on pennies of William I. issued at Exeter and Cricklade.
Anniversary Meeting.

Mr. W. J. Andrew illustrated by a photographic lantern slide the identity of design and detail of the Hand of Providence issuing from clouds over the large Saxon crucifix at Romsey Abbey with the same design on the coins of Æthelred II., suggesting that it was copied from the money whilst still current, circa A.D. 1015.

Treasurer's Report.

Copies of the Audited Balance Sheet having been distributed amongst the Members present, the Treasurer proceeded to explain the various items and to summarize the Society's financial position.

The Balance Sheet was passed as presented, and a vote of thanks was unanimously accorded to Mr. A. C. Hutchins.

Ballot for the election of Officers and Council for the year 1913.

Mr. W. Carlyon-Britton and Mr. J. L. Acton File were appointed Scrutators, and at the close of the ballot reported that the Officers and Members of the Council as set forth in the list recommended by the Council had been duly elected.
