A FIND OF ROMAN DENARII AND AN EARLY BRITISH COIN AT ASHOVER, DERBYSHIRE.

Dr. Herbert Peck, Corresponding Member of the Council for the Chesterfield district, contributed the following interesting report:—

"In April, 1922, a man happening to climb to a recess or shallow cave in the cliff above the East Wood, Ashover, found a coin of reddish colour, which, however, was broken in cleaning and was thrown away. Two of his sons and another boy climbed to the place, which is difficult of access, on June the 18th, and found about forty more. These they cleaned as best they could, disputing over the apportionment of the spoil. One of them then appealed to the local policeman, who at once took possession of the coins as treasure trove. Hearing of the find I made some enquiries, and then wrote to the Chief Constable of the County, who kindly ordered them to be handed to me for identification.

Some of them requiring more technical knowledge than I possess, I consulted Mr. W. Sharp Ogden, F.S.A., who has been so kind as to assist me to identify them, and his report is to the following effect:—

They are all, with one exception, Roman denarii, or Antoniniani, the latter being larger in fabric but very debased. They cover a period of about fifty years, and none are of scarce types.

They comprise the following:—

The exception mentioned above is a very small coin of rather base silver, of Ancient-British origin, but it is impossible to give more than an approximate tribal attribution to it, although it probably belongs to the Iceni, or some tribe between the Iceni and the Brigantes. It is much smaller but very similar to the base gold coin shown in Evans, plate D, no. 9: and for the present purpose it may be given to a northern branch of the Iceni. Its description is: Obverse:—Remains of a laureated head. Reverse:—Horse with pellets. A very small coin of base silver.

The policeman climbed to the site of the hoard, and was rewarded by the discovery of a silver ring, which I exhibit, and I think that it bears traces of letters upon it. I also, in turn, visited the site, and found that the ring and coins had been lying in a niche between two large stones, where they were protected from damp and exposure. Probably they were in a leather bag when they were hidden, but this had perished, and they were covered only by a little soil. Many of them are worn by use, but they are otherwise in a good state of preservation.”

A vote of thanks was moved from the Chair and accorded to Dr. Peck for his communication.

THE COUNCIL’S REPORT.

Mr. Andrew, as Secretary, presented the following Report of the Council for the year 1922:—

This, our Nineteenth Annual Report to the Members, is the saddest we have presented, because during the year we have lost our honoured President and friend, the late John Sanford Saltus, but his memory will last so long as British numismatics exist and the pages of our Journal are read. But we must be content to endorse the words in which Mr. Francis voiced the feelings of all of us at the Meeting held on June 28th, in moving from the Chair the tribute due to Mr. Saltus’s memory—a Meeting which we had looked forward to as a meeting of welcome, to be followed by a dinner to be given in his honour as President, and for which every preparation had been made.

It is with deep regret that we have noted the death of our Honorary Member, the popular Marquis de Soveral, whose interest in, and knowledge of art were rarely surpassed. Also that from the same cause we have lost the following seven Members during the year:

Mr. J. H. Chalmers, an original Member.
Mr. Frederick A. Crisp, F.S.A., an original Member; a Vice-President, 1904; and Member of the Council, 1905 and 1906.
Mr. Alexander Goodall, an original Member.
Mr. William Eare Hidden, of New Jersey, a Member since 1908.
Mr. Thomas Edward Hodgkin, a Member since 1913.
Mr. Maurice Rosenheim, F.S.A., a Member since 1909.
Mr. Frederick Willson Yeates, who joined the Society in 1904, and was recently the author of the very important paper on the "Coinage of Ireland" in Vol. XV.

The eightieth birthday of Sir Henry Hoyle Howorth, K.C.I.E., F.R.S., F.S.A., on July 1st, was an opportune occasion for the presentation to him of the Freedom of the Society, which was awarded in the form of his unanimous election as an Honorary Member by the ballot of the Members. He has been a Member of our Society since 1913, and is the doyen of English numismatists.

Six Members have resigned, and the names of sixteen, an accumulation of several years, have been removed by the advice of our Honorary Treasurer in rectifying the List of Members.

On the other hand, the following eighteen new Members have been welcomed by the Society during the year:

Mr. Hugh Neville Bagot.
Mr. A. E. Bagnall.
Mr. Edgar M. Burnett.
Mrs. Robert James Campbell, of New York.
Mr. Vernon B. Crowther-Benyon, M.B.E., M.A., F.S.A.
Mr. Thomas Morley Cunnington.
Mr. G. S. Elliston, M.C., M.A.
Major H. Fletcher.
The National Museum of Finland.
Mr. Harrold Edgar Gillingham.
Mr. Thomas Vere Hodgson.
The London Library, Dr. A. Hagberg Wright, Librarian.
Mr. A. J. Morris.
The Ashmolean Museum, Dr. D. A. Hogarth, C.M.G., M.A., F.S.A., Keeper.
Mr. William Waite Sanderson, C.B.E.
Major Henry Charles Verner.
The National Library of Wales, Mr. John Ballinger, M.A., Librarian.
Mr. Frank Warren.

Therefore the Society now consists of 18 Royal, 6 Honorary, and 320 Members, total 344.

Mr. Grant R. Francis had, at the request of the Council, presided at all the meetings of the Society during the absence in New York of Mr. Saltus, for it was understood that the latter would not be in England until the June meeting. It was, therefore, to Mr. Francis that we looked to carry on the Society for the rest of the year as efficiently as he had conducted its affairs down to that date. We had no hesitation in appointing him President until this Anniversary Meeting, when you, the Members, will, we know, endorse our choice with your fullest support, for he has earned it.

Early in the year Mr. A. C. Hutchins, F.C.A., expressed his wish to be released from the duties of Honorary Treasurer, and Members will join us in according to him the Society’s gratitude for the many years during which he has managed its financial affairs.

Sir William Wells, F.S.A., was appointed to the office. He is well known to you all, and we feel sure that he will receive your unanimous confirmation as the Society's Honorary Treasurer. At his suggestion the various funds, with the exception of the John Sanford Saltus Medal Fund, which is governed by its own rules, have been consolidated into one fund under the heading "The General Purposes Fund," and the accounts much simplified. Sir William Wells will present and explain these, and no doubt his accounts will be as clear and as satisfactory to you as they are to us.

Mr. Parsons as Librarian deserves the thanks of the Society for his always efficient management of that branch of its work.

Vol. XV of the Journal was issued in the spring of the year, and with its varied papers, comprising altogether 400 pages, in addition to the many plates, seems to have given general satisfaction. Members will remember that a bound work of this size and quality, under the present conditions of printing, costs per copy very nearly double the subscriptions they pay. Therefore at present it is being issued at intervals of eighteen instead of twelve months, and the excess in cost is supplied from the income of the Society's invested funds. Vol. XVI will, therefore, be due at our next Anniversary Meeting.

In this relation we should acknowledge the special contributions, subscriptions and benefits the Society has received during the year, and our thanks are due to Miss Farquhar, Mr. Ernest H. Wheeler, Lieut.-Colonel C. L. Evans, R.G.A., and Dr. Cassal; also to Mr. H. Ling Roth, Mr. S. M. Spink, Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson and Hodge, Messrs. Glendining, and the University of Christiania for additions to the Library.

The attendance at our meetings is, we are pleased to say, steadily increasing. The papers read fully maintain the Society's reputation, and the exhibitions are always numerous and interesting.

To Mr. W. Beresford Smith and Mr. Wheeler we owe our thanks for acting as Auditors of the Society's accounts for the year, and to Mr. Coleman P. Hyman and Mr. Ronald Montagu Simon for undertaking the duties of Scrutators for the ballot this evening.
Owing to the claims of his business Mr. Frank Higgins, Clerk to the Council, finds it impossible to attend the Council meetings now that they are held in the afternoon, and he has reluctantly had to tender his resignation after many years of much valued and efficient service. We regret this the more because of the keen interest Mr. Higgins has always taken in the affairs and object of the Society, and the willing help he has always given its Members. We feel that these are not the days when any opportunity for economy should be missed, and therefore we have the more gratefully accepted the generous offer of Miss D. H. Andrews, who has occasionally attended our meetings, to undertake, in an honorary capacity, the duties hitherto performed by Mr. Higgins, and the latter has offered her every assistance during the opening stages of her office.

May we, in conclusion, appeal to you, the Members generally, to spread the aims and objects of the Society over a wider field; for the historical study of British numismatics is not only interesting, but it is also educational, and it is due entirely to this that even the very names of many of our early kings have found their way into the history of this country. If you will join us in bringing the Journal and our objects to the notice of friends who are interested with you in similar pursuits, you will be serving a good cause, and we hope that thereby sufficient new Members will join us to enable the Journal once more to be issued annually, for that is an objective which is always before us.

Sir William Wells, as Honorary Treasurer, having presented and explained his accounts for the year as duly audited, the Council’s Report and the Accounts were unanimously adopted.

At the instance of the President, who congratulated Sir William Wells upon his lucid report of the financial status of the Society, votes of thanks were accorded to him, to the Auditors, Mr. W. Beresford Smith and Mr. Ernest H. Wheeler, to the Scrutators, Mr. Coleman P. Hyman and Mr. Ronald Montagu Simon, and to the numerous Exhibitors who had so pleasantly conducted to the success of that meeting and its predecessors during the year.
The ballot having been taken, the Scrutators reported that the list of Members nominated by the Council had been elected, namely:

Director:—Frederick A. Walters, F.S.A.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We beg to report to the Members that we have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. Nothing has been reserved in the accounts for the cost of Volume XVI of the Journal and no credit has been taken for subscriptions in arrear.
