

Lewis, Samuel Savage

Rev.

(1836-1891)

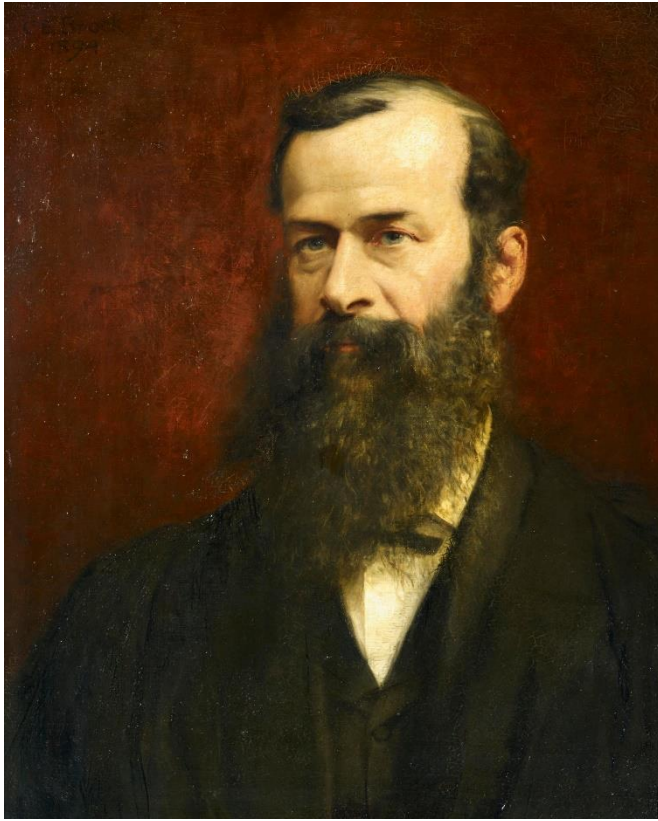

Image thanks to Corpus Christi College,
Parker Library

Image thanks to Fitzwilliam Museum and
Cambridge Antiquarian Society

Image thanks to Mill Road Cemetery,
Cambridge

Biographical and Other Notes

Church of England clergyman, Librarian at Corpus Christi (1870-1891), linguist, eccentric and generally known as 'Satan Lewis'. Assiduous collector of coins, gems and seals, mostly classical. His college rooms became a museum, bequeathed to the college and now in the Fitzwilliam Museum. Wrote a few notes in NC.

Sources and References

HEM Encyclopædia 4 – Biographical.
RN – MEC8.

<https://theparkerlibrary.wordpress.com/2012/01/26/samuel-savage-lewis/>
<https://www.fitzmuseum.cam.ac.uk/gallery/lewiscollection/lewis.html>