Biographical and Other Notes

Very prominent Belfast-based antiques and Coin dealer. He specialized in fine silver, coins and stamps and advertised widely in the numismatic press. He had the Ulster Coin Center at 83 Dublin Road, Belfast and a sales counter at Belfast's Europa Hotel. His premises were bombed several times, including June 1972. In 1980 he was kidnapped and a ransom of £1M demanded. Though payment was attempted, he was killed. No organization or people were proven responsible.
