Notes

Born within the sound of the Bow bells, but grew up in Kent. Interested in history and started collecting whilst at school. Joined B.A. Seaby Ltd on his 17th birthday in 1968, working in the English silver department. Later, Margaret Amstell would poach him for the Gold Department. He went solo in 1987 but continued to co-edit the Standard Catalogue until 1998. The name Studio Coins arose from the fact that they were based close to Ealing Studios in West London. His wife, Janet, also helps run the business, now based in Winchester. Member of the BNTA, ANA, and BNS.
